Review of the efficiency of the administrative and financial functioning of the United Nations

Resolution adopted by the General Assembly on 22 December 2023

on the report of the Fifth Committee ([A/78/664, para. 12)]

78/257. Investing in prevention and peacebuilding

The General Assembly,

Recognizing the vital role of the United Nations in preventing conflicts, assisting parties to conflicts to end hostilities and emerge towards recovery, reconstruction and development and in mobilizing sustained international attention and assistance, and, in this regard, the need for a coordinated, coherent and integrated approach to conflict prevention, peacebuilding, post-conflict response and reconciliation with a view to achieving sustainable peace,

Reaffirming Security Council resolution 1645 \(2005\) and General Assembly resolution 60/180 of 20 December 2005, which established the Peacebuilding Fund, to be funded by voluntary contributions, and recalling General Assembly resolution 76/305 of 8 September 2022, in which it recognized that financing for peacebuilding remains a critical challenge, affirmed its commitment to consider all options for adequate, predictable and sustained financing for peacebuilding, including through voluntary, innovative and assessed funding and other means of resource mobilization, and noted the significance non-monetary contributions can play in peacebuilding efforts, and also affirmed that other sources of funding, including assessed contributions, could be used to finance the Fund through modalities determined by the General Assembly, including considerations related to increased transparency, accountability and oversight, while ensuring the continued flexibility and agility of the Fund,

Recalling Article 17 of the Charter of the United Nations and rules 153 and 154 of the rules of procedure of the General Assembly, and further affirming that the use of assessed contributions is determined by the General Assembly and is within its purview,

Recognizing the critical contribution made by the Peacebuilding Commission and the Peacebuilding Fund since their establishment in supporting countries emerging from conflict or at risk of relapsing into conflict,

Recognizing also the importance of peacebuilding, and welcoming the valuable work undertaken by the Peacebuilding Fund as a catalytic, rapid-response and flexible pre-positioned pooled fund providing financing to activities to sustain peace in conflict-affected countries, and in advancing strategic alignment within the United Nations system and between the United Nations and the international financial institutions,

Noting the fluctuations in voluntary contributions to the Peacebuilding Fund and its narrow donor base, and recognizing that the Fund continues to suffer from persistent funding challenges, stemming in large part from the unpredictability and unsustainability of its exclusive reliance on voluntary contributions, and exacerbated in the past decade by increased demands, including those arising from the transition and closure of United Nations peacekeeping missions,

Reaffirming that the use of assessed contributions must be transparent and that the oversight role of the General Assembly in the management and utilization of assessed contributions must be ensured,

Recognizing the need to enhance financing to ensure the full, equal and meaningful participation of women and the inclusion of youth in peacebuilding,

Reaffirming the primary responsibility of national Governments and authorities in identifying, driving and directing priorities, strategies and activities for peacebuilding and sustaining peace, and in this regard recognizing that national ownership is a condition for access to the Peacebuilding Fund,

4. Also reaffirms the importance of ensuring adequate, predictable and sustained financing for peacebuilding, notes that the amount of voluntary contributions has not been sufficient to meet increasing demands for the support of the Peacebuilding Fund, and affirms that other sources of funding, including assessed contributions, could be used to finance the Fund through modalities determined by the General Assembly as an extraordinary arrangement, on an exceptional basis, and without setting a precedent, notes that voluntary contributions should remain the primary source of funding, and stresses that assessed funding is not meant to be a substitute for voluntary contributions and innovative funding;
5. Encourages Member States to make and increase voluntary contributions to peacebuilding, including to the Peacebuilding Fund, to ensure sufficient resources
